Title: Damage Tolerance and Fatigue Evaluation of Composite Rotorcraft Structures

Form Numbers: There are no forms associated with this collection

Type of Review: Renewal of an information collection

Background: The “Damage Tolerance and Fatigue Evaluation of Composite Rotorcraft Structures” final rule (76 FR 74655) revised parts 27 and 29 of Title 14 of the Code of Federal Regulations to add new certification standards for normal and transport category rotorcraft to address advances in structural damage tolerance and fatigue substantiation technology for composite rotorcraft structures. To obtain type certification of a rotorcraft, an applicant must show that the rotorcraft complies with specific certification requirements. To show compliance, the applicant must submit substantiating data. FAA engineers or designated engineer representatives from industry review the required data submittals to determine if the rotorcraft complies with the applicable minimum safety requirements for damage tolerance and fatigue evaluation of composite structures and that the rotorcraft has no unsafe features in the composite structures.

Respondents: Approximately 6 applicants for certification for 10.5 part 27 rotorcraft and 6 part 29 rotorcraft.

Frequency: Information is collected on occasion

Estimated Average Burden per Response: 178 hours

Estimated Total Annual Burden: 109 hours

Issued in Washington, DC on November 4, 2015.

Ronda Thompson,

FAA Information Collection Clearance Officer,

Performance, Policy, and Records Management Branch, ASP-110.
